DECISION GRATIFIES PRESIDENT

Expects Rate Increase by Railroads Will Be Beneficial

TO ALL BUSINESS INTERESTS OF THE COUNTRY.

RETURN OF PROSPERITY

Is Expected and the Decision Will Go a Long Way Toward Paving the Way to This Desideratum, In the Opinion of Administration Officials.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Washington, Dec. 19.—The decision of the Interstate Commerce Commission in the eastern advance rate case was highly gratifying to administration officials today. It was believed that the action of the commission in granting the railroads in official classification territory the right to advance their freight rates 5 per cent, except upon certain heavy commodities which comprise a large bulk of the traffic, would pave the way for an immediate revival of prosperity throughout the United States. The exceptions referred to are coal, coke, iron ore and certain other traffic moved partly by lake and partly by rail, upon which the commission had heretofore fixed rates adjudicated "reasonable." Official classification territory constitutes the country east of the Mississippi, north of the Potomac and Ohio rivers.

President Wilson, it is known, was greatly pleased over the decision, although no formal statement has been given out by him. He expects the decision will have an immediate effect upon the country's economic situation. The president has let it be known all along that he believed improvement of business conditions genrally hinged to some extent upon additional revenues being provided for the railroads.

As a result of the commission's decision, which was divided, Chairman Harlan and Commissioner Clements, dissenting, it is estimated that the roads affected will be able to add to their annual revenue about $30,000,000. They had hoped to obtain increases which would give them approximately $50,000,000 in added revenue annually.

The decision of the commission was the outgrowth of a petition of the eastern railroads for a re-opening of the advanced rate case. The original appeal of the carriers for a general increase in rates of 5 per cent was denied by the commission on July 29, last. In their petition for a re-hearing the roads asserted their reports since the case was decided continued to show decreases in operating income, and that that situation was aggravated by conditions resulting from the European war.

The commission decided on September 19, last, to re-open the case, and began hearings one month later. The hearing continued for several days, many witnesses having been heard both for and against the proposed increase in freight rates. The commission had had the case under consideration since that time..

RAILROADS ARE MUCH ELATED BY THE NEW DECISION.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

New York, Dec. 19.—That railroads would be substantially aided by the increased freight rates granted yesterday by the interstate commerce commission was the opinion generally expressed by railroad officials in statements made public here today.

President L. F. Loree of the Delaware & Hudson railroad stated that the rate increase will relieve the distress of the railroads by making up a deficit in their earnings. He did

Toledo Mayor Will Take Time To Decide Whether He Will Remove Civil Service Officials

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Toledo, Dec. 19.—Mayor Keller is not certain now whether he will remove the civil service commissioners.

Although he announced that he would remove the three commissioners, W. E. Cordill, L. H. Paine and J. W. McMahon, said that the matter is open to further consideration and that he will not take action today.

The mayor said that after a careful reading of the report of the state civil service commissioners, he is in doubt what they recommended.

In the opinion of the mayor, the ground for doubt is in the fact that the recommendation of the state commissioners report does not mention the local commissioners specifically, but refers to "these offending officials."

"I am not clear just what the state commissioners really recommend and consequently I have not determined just what course I will take. I will take further time to consider the matter," said the mayor.

No Hunting Permitted In Ohio After Six O'clock This Evening

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Columbus, Dec. 19.—No hunting will be permitted in Ohio after 6 o'clock this afternoon. The season which ordinarily would have closed December 4 and which was extended by order of the agricultural commission to this date, because foot and mouth quarantine restrictions interfered with rabbit shooting eariler, has been ended by another order of the commission.

Allies' Advances In Flanders Counterbalance German Gains Reported from Field of Poland

Progress In One Vicinity Especially Is Considered Noteworthy, as for Weeks the Germans Had Clung Tenaciously and Their Spear Point Had Presented a Most Irritating Problem to the Policy of Gen. Joffre In the Campaign

GRAND DUKE DRAWS IN PORTION OF RUSSIAN FRONT

To the Intrenchments Nearer Warsaw—One German Newspaper Rebukes Its Colleagues for Exciting Undue Exuberance In Berlin Populace From the Vague Information of Operations In the East, While Petrograd Has Never Admitted Any Serious Reverses to the Czar's Forces Along the Vistula.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

London, Dec. 19.—The co-ordination of military movements in the east and west which has been observed since the commencement of the war is now shown in a striking way in the offensive movement of the allies in northern France and Flanders, keeping the Germans engaged and preventing them from sending reinforcements eastward. The allies claim gains in Flanders and France during the past few days which are said to counterbalance German advances in Poland.

Progress of the allies in the vicinity of Labassee, where the Germans had clung tenaciously to their positions for so many weeks, is regarded here as particularly noteworthy as the Germans spear point there had presented an irritating problem. The advance of the allies thus far has been slow, but British military critics expect it to gain impetus.

British and French military writers say that the doubts expressed by them of the correctness of the German announcement that a historic victory had been won over the Russian hosts, are borne out by apparent lessening of enthusiasm at Berlin where the atmosphere during the last two days was surcharged with exhuberent rejoicing. The Berlin Vorwaerts rebukes its colleague for what it calls their "exaggerated deductions," from the vague information available.

It is evident that Grand Duke Nicholas has drawn in a portion of the Russian front from the Lawiczllow line to entrenchments nearer Warsaw. There has been no admission from Petrograd, however, of any serious reverses in the field of operations along the Vistula river such as must necessarily have preceded a general German victory. It is reported here as quite possible that the Tuetonic allies have scored successes in some localities, although there is no information available as to their time or location.

The reverse which Petrograd says the Germans have suffered in the region of Milawa, near the East Prussian frontier, is believed in London to have interferred with the operations of the Germans along the Vistula. It is asserted unofficially at Petrograd that the Germans have evacuated Lodz, finding that city of no greater strategic value to them than it was to the Russians.

Last night's official communication from the Russian war office stated definitely that all Austro-German attacks along the left bank of the Vistula which have been in progress for several days have been repulsed. Whatever are the facts of the situation in the Vistula region, the present situation there apparently is exerting no effect on the crucial operations to the south, around Cracow. The Russian forces which are threatening the old Polish capital and the Silesian frontier remain fixed in their positions, and the Austrian rally which brought back Teutonic forces across the Carpathians seems to have met with a check.

Big Red Cross Hospital Near Battle Lines

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Washington, Dec. 19.—Preparations are under way for the establishment of a large American Red Cross hospital near the battle front of the German-Ally forces in the vicinity of Metz for sick and wounded soldiers whose conditions are too serious to permit their transfer to asylums more removed from the scenes of the conflict, according to a letter received today by the Red Cross headquarters here from Dr. Nordhoff Jung, in charge of the Red Cross hospital at Munich.

According to the letter the French, English and German wounded were now crowded into private residences and other asylums at Munich. All the hospitals are said to be filled with patients from the armies along the southern German border.

Local Option Elections In Belmont Today

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Wheeling, W. Va., Dec. 19.—Local option elections are being held today in the largest municipal area that has voted on the question of the open saloon since the recent adoption in Ohio of the home rule amendment to the state constitution. Three cities, heretofore dry under the Rose law elections, are voting on the question whether licenses shall be issued under the home rule provision.

The cities affected are Martins Ferry, Bellaire, and Bridgeport, all situated opposite this city. A big vote was being polled early today in all three of the cities and interest in the outcome of the election was intense.

Scarborough Bombarded By German Cruisers.

Scarborough, on the east coast of England, is one of the greatest watering places in the British Isles, and is a city of considerable importance, with a population of 40,000. It is finely situated in the form of an amphitheater on slopes rising from the sea and mounting a promontory jutting into the North Sea. It is a little more than 200 miles from London and thirty-seven miles northwest of the city of York. On the headland and commanding a fine view of the harbor are the ruins of a twelfth century castle. Near that is the ancient church of St. Mary, consisting of a nave of what was originally a late Norman and Early English church. The fashionable parade is the Marine Drive, two and a half ~~miles long, protected by a sea~~ wall and embellished with gardens. Scarborough is popularly known as the "Queen of Watering Places." There is a large spa, a fine museum and promenade piers.

COMMISSION NOW HEARING C. H. & D. CASE

WITNESS SAYS ROAD WAS IN RECEIVER'S HANDS BEFORE MORGAN BOUGHT IT.

Late Financier, After Finding Out True Situation, Attempted to Prevent Loss to Others.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Washington, Dec. 19.—When the Interstate Commerce Commission resumed hearings here today on the financial operations of the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton and Pere Marquette Railroads, Frederick W. Stevens, representing J. P. Morgan & Co., presented testimony to support the contention that operations of the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton had burdened the road with $24,700,000 in financial obligations and sent it into a receiver's hands before the Morgan house bought control of the road for the Erie.

At the time of the purchase in 1905, Mr. Stevens said, that Erie directors and the late J. P. Morgan were in ignorance of the actual financial condition of the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton, and that a surplus of $793,000 the preceding year had been changed to a deficit of $241,000 through acquisition of control of the Pere Marquette.

As soon as the actual situation was disclosed, he said, the late J. P. Morgan voluntarily took the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton stock back from the Erie at the purchase price, and under the receivership, which began in December, 1905, considerable was accomplished toward restoring the line to more sound financial basis.

After the re-organization, he said control of the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton was transferred to the Baltimore & Ohio with the approval of United States circuit court, and Mr. Stevens declared the only pecuniary advantage from the re-organization the Morgan house had was the prospect of receiving in 1916 the appraised value of the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton stock sold to the Baltimore & Ohio.

In 1911, Mr. Stevens said, the Morgans bought from the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton, 110,000 shares of Pere Marquette stock acquired by that road under the administration of Eugene Zimmerman in 1904, at a total cost of $13,750,000. The company also advanced $7,600,000 in new money to the Pere Marquette notes for which advance were now defaulted. Summarizing the present situation the witness said:

"Thus J. P. Morgan & Co. have the 110,000 shares of the Pere Marquette stock (now of doubt if any value) to show for the $12,000,000 and upwards paid by them in 1905 to relieve the Erie Railroad of the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton purchase."

J. P. Morgan & Co. were not members of, and had no interest in the syndicate in Zimmerman's organization. Negotiations for the Erie's purchase of control of the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton, he declared, were completed in ignorance of the calamitous charges in the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton financial condition which had just taken place during the year of the Zimmerman administration.

Villa Garrison Has Revolted and Given A City to Carranza

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

San Antonio, Texas, Dec. 19.—A despatch received by the local Mexican consul today said:

"The Villa Garrison at San Luis Potosi revolted against Villa this morning and surrendered the city to General Samuel de Los Santos who is loyal to General Carranza.

The dispatch added:

"Several thousand troops participated in the revolt, asserting they would remain no longer under the banner of Villa.

"They asked to be enrolled in the ranks of General Santos who thus acquired a large body of loyal troops without a battle."

It is reported here also that the troops commanded by Carrera Torres, in the state of Tamaulipas and believed to have been intended by Villa to check constitutionalists operations there also have gone over to Carranza.

Large Reward For Return of Bride's Jewels

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

New York, Dec. 19.—A large reward is being offered here today for the return of jewels valued at more than $50,000, which was lost by a bride of a few days, who is stopping with her husband at Hollis, Long Island. The jewels were lost on Thursday night while the couple, who refused to disclose their names, was enroute in an automobile from a theatre in this city to Hollis. The couple is said to be very wealthy and well known in Chicago and Pittsburg. The lost jewels consist of a pearl necklace, a diamond sunburst and several rings.

Another loss of jewels was reported today by D. N. Hanson, a woolen merchant of this city and Chicago, who told the police that a diamond necklace, several rings, a watch and other articles of jewelry valued at $5,000 had been stolen from his wife's apartment in an uptown hotel on Thursday night.

SOLOMON DID NOT DISPLAY MORE WISDOM

THAN CINCINNATI JUDGE WHO ALLOWS CHILD TO DECIDE HIS OWN CUSTODY.

Kraft's Boy Sent to Home of "Spirit-Mother," Where He Receives Best of Training.

Cincinnati, Dec. 19.—Louis Jesse Weeks Kraft, jr., was sent back with Mrs. Plymouth Weeks to her Kennedy Heights home last night by Judge Frank M. Gorman, there to remain under her care, at the conclusion of one of the most sensational trials for the custody of a child ever conducted in this county.

It was the will of the child, who was named in the will of the late Lewis Kraft, politician, that he be left with the one he has long been taught to revere as "mother." The boy told Judge Gorman he wanted to stay with "mother," as he affectionately smiled at Mrs. Weeks.

Judge Gorman in deciding the case, reviewed the testimony at length. He pointed to the statements of Mrs. Guinen, in which she told of the birth of a child out of wedlock, of how she went to a lying-in hospital, and there abandoned the boy. He commented on the fitness of such a person to regain even her own child at this late date, after condoning the situation for 12 years.

Judge Gorman then spoke of the good repute in which Mrs. Weeks was at present held by her neighbors in Pleasant Ridge and Kennedy Heights.

The boy's demeanor provoked the admiration of the court, showing that the "spirit child" had been reared under a good tutelage and was being trained in the right walks of life. That the boy was in no way responsible for the shortcomings of his parents and that the sins of the parents should not be visited upon him, were points made by the judge.

He was arrested on a warrant sworn out by Henry A. Applebaum, his former manager who accuses Wagner of embezzling $150 following his fight with Ad Wolgast in Flint, October 15.

Every Wireless Operation Stopped, Until Battleship Located Disabled Steamer

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

San Diego, Calif., Dec. 19.—Stout bulkheads and a comparatively quiet sea promised early today to prove the salvation of the American Hawiian steamer Isthmian which, with a hole in her bow and her stern out of the water, continued to proceed slowly toward this harbor and safety. If she remained afloat and maintained her gait of 7 1-2 knots, it was estimated she would arrive off San Diego about midnight. The United States cruiser West Virginia, the destroyer Perry and the naval tug Iroquois were standing by, to aid the crippled vessel. A tow was offered by the tug, but was refused. The Isthmian carries a million dollar cargo of fruits and wines and a crew of forty.

A few minutes after the steamer fouled a tip of San Benito island, 300 miles south of here early yesterday, her wireless calls for help caused the Point Loma station to silence all stations as far north as Sitka, Alaska. The demand was acknowledged by the naval station at Arlington, near Washington. Honolulu also picked up the message. Late last night when it was thought the Isthmian was fast sinking, Rear Admiral T. B. Howard, of the Pacific fleet, ordered every wireless station on the coast to cease operations until Point Loma and the West Virginia could learn the ships exact condition.

The Isthmian left San Francisco six days ago, bound for New York,

NEWARK HIGH BEAT GLENFORD AT BASKETBALL

Newark High won the first scheduled game of the season at Glenford, 22 to 15, before a good audience. The game developed into a game of shooting fouls during the first half, in which Glenford made their score by this method. The half ended 7 to 6 in favor of Newark. The guards gave a grand exhibition of covering their men in the first half, as only one field goal was registered and that by Rawlings from a difficult angle. During this period the forwards had no opportunity to score because they were unable to lose the guards, due to the narrow floor.

The second half was more productive of points in which Newark secured four baskets to Glenford's three. The guards were also much in evidence in this second half, but with the fouls equal the score ended 7 points in favor of Newark.

Clark at guard was very strong for Glenford, working the floor in excellent form and was fast and sure in his passes. He and Mohler were the real strength of the Glenford team. Glenford has perfected the short, low pass that is well adapted to their floor. This bothered the Newark boys for a time. Stephan at center, secured the tip-off on most every play, but it was unproductive because it was impossible to get team work on the narrow floor.

Goodwin and Easterday only played the last few minutes of the game, but put life into the team and demonstrated that they were worthy substitutes.

The crowd was fair in its applause, which was divided equally. The hospitality of the audience and management was all that could be asked for and was a credit to Glenford.

The next game on the Newark schedule is a game with the Newark Senior Y. M. C. A. next Wednesday evening at Hickey Hall. A preliminary game between Junior and Sophomore teams will precede the regular game.

Line-up and summary was as follows:

PROSPECTS GOOD FOR SUCCESS OF UNITED CHARITY

From expressions heard in various quarters of the city, there is every indication that the movement to unite all charity organizations in the city into some sort of a general charity body, will meet with general success.

It is expected that there will be no trouble in effecting the permanent organization at the meeting which has been called for Tuesday, December 29, at 3:30 p. m. in the council chamber. All organizations in the city, doing charity work in any form, will be asked to take part in this meeting and assist in perfecting the general organization. The committee in its letter to such organizations, has made it clear that representatives to this meeting shall come authorized to take part in the final organization.

The committee in charge of selecting the date for the meeting announced that the date was selected with a view of giving every organization interested, opportunity to elect their representative at regular meetings, so there would be no question of authority of the delegates.

With a few exceptions, it is believed that every body in the city doing charity work will unite in the movement, and by this united effort, it is believed that greater good to the greater number will result.

SEARCH

BEING SYSTEMATICALLY MADE FOR $13,500 THAT DESPERADO STOLE FROM BANKS

Money was Shipped to Louisville by Parcel Post—Hohl's Other Crimes.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Cincinnati, Dec. 19.—The systematic search for the $13,000 stolen by Frank G. Hohl, the automobile bandit, who was killed in a duel with three policemen, after he had committed two daring bank robberies Thursday was continued today. Both the police and postoffice inspectors were making every efforts to find the missing money. It has been learned that part of the money was mailed to Louisville, Ky., from a branch postoffice station in Cincinnati shortly after the second robbery was committed. This money was placed in a box and mailed to P. C. Wright, Louisville. Whether this box has been delivered has as yet not been ascertained. The Louisville postoffice authorities also have been requested to be on the lookout for a valise, in which Hohl is thought to have shipped money to that city. The valise, it is believed, was sent by parcel post.

Police and federal authorities Saturday checked off another criminal exploit in their account against Hohl. Hohl was the man who, on August 6, descended upon the money order division of the Dayton, Ohio, postoffice, and in a particularly daring manner, robbed the government of $947 of its funds.

The body of the dead bandit was identified today by Arthur B. Conover and John E. Price, clerks in the money order department of the Dayton postoffice.

Fred Drosle, saloonist at 76 Madison avenue, Covington, said that Hohl was one of the men who held up and robbed patrons of his saloon several weeks ago.

The police also believe he was the man who entered the saloon of Leonard and Weichering at Eighth and Baymiller streets, Wednesday night and stole $50 and some whiskey. The bottles of whiskey found in the West Main street room of the bandit were identified by the saloonists who are the only ones who handle that brand in Cincinnati.

STATE INSURANCE DOES NOT APPLY TO DEAD POLICEMAN

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Columbus, Dec. 19.—Workmen's compensation will not be paid the dependents of Policeman Edward Knaul of Cincinnati, who died yesterday as the result of bullet wounds inflicted by Frank Hohl, bandit, because the dependents are beneficiaries of the police pension fund.

This statement was made yesterday at headquarters of the state industrial commission, which administers workmen's compensation. The city of Cincinnati is a contributor to the state fund, but the law provides a police pension, or death payment fund, takes the place of compensation in such cases.

DR. RICHMOND SAYS FOOTBALL IS A COLLEGE ABUSE

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Chicago, Dec. 19.—Football at the great American universities is the "werst abuse of the modern college system," Dr. Charles Alexander Richmond, president of the Union College, Schenectady, N. Y., asserted in an address at the annual banquet of the college alumni from the middle west here last night.

"The football situation in most colleges is disgraceful, Dr. Richmond said. "Fathers and mothers allow their sons to be exploited in the arena for profit, like circus performers or vaudeville actors. Academies are scraped for athletic material and inducements of all kinds are offered to promising athletes.

"The men that go into football are driven and coached under the professional system until they have no time for study. They have no time for anything but athletics."

The well is known as No. 5, and is good for over 100 barrels of the precious fluid per day.

Y. W. C. A. NOTES

Merry Christmas to all!

Miss Constance MacCorkle, field industrial secretary, was the welcome guest of the Association Tuesday night. Her visit resulted in more definite plans for the Federation of Industrial clubs early in January.

Several girls in the Residence Hall, accompanied by the secretaries, went to Black Hand early in the week to gather Christmas decorations, laurel, bitter-sweet and a real Christmas tree.

Letters from Mrs. John Hooper, formerly Florence Bluhm, tell of her happiness in her new home in Stabler, La., near New Orleans. Mrs. Hooper is greatly missed in the Y. W. C. A. home circle, but we rejoice over her happiness

There will be no more classes after the gymnasium classes Saturday morning, December 19, until January 4, 1915.

Red Cross stamps for sale at Y. W. C. A.

Have you seen the Y. W. C. A. calendar for 1915. It is better than ever. every board and committee member should have one.

Next week will be a week of Christmas parties. Monday evening the Four L club girls give a Christmas party for their members and friends at the association building. The O. B A. club has a luncheon at noon Tuesday at the Halter factory Miss Ruth Forry, leader of the Starlight club, will entertain the club at her home on Tuesday evening. The Monday evening after Christmas, the Jolly Workers club entertain their friends at the Association building.

Mrs. Clemons of Granville, gave some very entertaining readings from the Birds Christmas Carols for the O. B. A club Tuesday noon this week. With the assistance of Miss Mary McKibben, club leader, this club has planned some very interesting and helpful noon meetings at the Halter factory.

The girls of the Y. W. C. A. home are joyously planning a Christmas party for some children who may not have much Christmas. There will be a Christmas tree hung with toys and useful gifts for each child. If any of our friends wish to contribute to this Christmas party, we will accept gratefully.

The two evening gymnasium classes had a joint Christmas party on Tuesday night. After a jolly time was spent in playing games, each one went in search of a package, bearing her name, which was hidden somewhere on second floor. There was much excitement aroused in opening these curiously shaped bundles and in reading the rhymes which were found inside. The main feature of the evening came later, when the party gathered around the long table in the dining room, which was loaded down with tempting home-made eats. Miss MacCorkle was an honored guest at this little gathering and caused much laughter by telling "darky" stories.

Make your plans to join a class after the holidays. There will be special rates for Gym classes from January 4th until the end of the term, February 1, as follows: evening classes, two lessons per week, 50c; Saturday morning classes, one lesson per week, 25c. A January bargain—don't miss it!

For We Have Seen His Star in the East!

(WRITTEN FOR THE ADVOCATE BY JAMES R. HOPLEY.)

The Christmas season is replendent with the great thought of happiness in life comes from giving happiness to others.

This is essentially a time when good will is evident in greetings and gifts, and happiness radiates from everyone.

In the material world it is necessary to acquire substance—means for the support of life and for the providing of necessities.

But a commercial enterprise which is operated in a manner which does not take into account the rights of others would be a far from popular in these times of uplift and community service.

We feel the need of the sharing spirit; we know the need of dividing our substance to multiply its efficiency.

Man's purposes are essentially good; but man's performances some times fail to reach the high standard he desires.

But the Christmas season is a time of open-handed desire to give to others that which will make them happy, and to shed upon others the spirit that prevades every heart—that is the central feature of life—and the greatest need of today of the suffering world.

"Peace on earth—good will to men." Peace that insures wider opportunity: good will, that shares all opportunity.

Approaching Christmas we feel the spirit of the season; we realize that we can help in making the spirit more generally in evidence.

Every point of human contact proves the multitude of the avenues for doing good in the world.

Gift giving is merely an expression; the real spirit of the season is the same that should prevail in our hearts throughout the year.

Not the lavish expenditure of means, so much as the lavish distribution of good and kindly thoughts, better purposes and higher intents.

Men who have these visions naturally associate themselves in the churches, where the spirit of Christmas is meant to radiate all the time, where the teachings of Christ are made the basis of men's lives.

"And I, if I be lifted up, will draw all men unto Me."

Church organizations are drawing men of right purpose, far vision and high ideals into closer relationship, with the purpose of enlarging the spirit of good will to all men; planning and striving for improved conditions which will develop and improve the Nation and the world.

Modern society owes the church its most loyal support, its most conscientious co-operation, its best service, that the real Spirit of Christmas may be far-reaching and that the Star of Bethlehem may give light to the uttermost parts of the world.

"FOR UNTO US A SON IS BORN, A CHILD IS GIVEN; AND HIS NAME SHALL BE CALLED WONDERFUL, COUNSELOR, THE MIGHTY GOD, THE PRINCE OF PEACE"

RUSSIAN ARMY ON MARCH PRESENTS ODD SPECTACLE

(Associated Press Correspondence)

A letter from Warsaw says that in marching Russian soldiers present an odd picture.

"The Russian regiments on the march are the most informal organizations in the world," it says. "Ahead ride a few officers, and then, in no particular formation, come the troops, some on one side of the road and some on the other. Toward the rear they straggle off in dwindling streams, wandering about the fields and plodding here and there, just as though each was off on an individual tour.

"For miles after a regiment has passed one sees little groups trudging along, apparently perfectly contented and without a worry in the world. Yet at night they will appear for rations, and in the morning start off again in a solid formation.

"I am told that this method of marching has proven a great puzzle to the German airmen in trying to estimate the numbers of troops that are moving. When the columns are so strung out, it is almost impossible from any height to tell whether what one sees is a battalion in close formation or a company strung out. Most armies march in solid masses which can be seen and estimated accurately from a great distance.

"The more one sees of the individual of the Russian army the more one comes to like the common soldiers here. He is the most good-natured, child-like, playful person in the world, and the month I have been with the army I have not seen any disorder. On the road and in the camp, all seem contented and happy as long as the weather is fine. It must be admitted they look a little dismal in the rain."

Just because a girl has very small feet is no reason why she should get a big head about it.

QUIT MEAT WHEN KIDNEYS BOTHER

Take a glass of Salts before breakfast if your Back hurts or Bladder is troubling you.

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which excites the kidneys, they become overworked from the strain, get sluggish and fail to filter the waste and poisons from the blood, then we get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, dizziness, sleeplessness and urinary disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passing or attended by a sensation of scalding, stop eating meat and get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate the kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.

New York's idea of starting up the wheels of industry is to set the stock market ticker agoing.

Don't ever expect a Sunday school class to be satisfied with 25-cent presents, when the next grade got 30-centers.

As soon as the inhabitants of the United States border towns get out within range, the Mexicans feel that fighting can then begin.

Why claim that many of the militia organizations are of no value, when they keep on turning out the usual number of colonels?

The inter-collegiate debates are now coming on, and the football receipts can be drawn on to make up for any shortage at the ticket office.

The small returns from the income tax suggest that there are a great many people who have their consciences under excellent discipline.

Many society girls would be glad to devote their talents to the Belgian relief committees, provided the latter can find a place to use embroidered initials.

An envious bachelor is mean enough to suggest that it is appropriate that the government require a war tax stamp to be placed on marriage certificates.

After reading the war bulletins, how nice it seems that all of the contending powers can win each day a continuous succession of glorious victories on all fields of battle.

There is a widespread opinion among the eight-year-old boys that Christmas will never be a thorough success unless they get 22-calibre rifles and free permission to use them.

The American Shoe.

Newspaper readers will have noted that among the big orders for supplies given for the contending armies in Europe are enormous purchases of American shoes. It will be strange, indeed, if Europe does not learn from this experience that the American shoemaker is the best in the world.

Across the water the ordinary shoe combines awkardness of form with ill-finished effects at fancy style. As a result of the inferiority of the ready-made article, high-priced custom shoemaking is said to be more common than with us.

As one looks in the window of any Newark shoe store it would be hard to speak too warmly of the fine effect made by our home-made and ready-to-wear article. Occasionally freak styles come along, in which the normal shape of the foot is twisted into deformity. A pointed shoe may please the unthinking eye. But the drift of the times seems to be in favor of the rounded lines that follow and protect the curves of the human foot.

American makers have attained a wonderful success in producing leather that shall be pliable, soft and comfortable to the foot, yet capable of resisting strain. The fitting of the upper to the peculiar curves of a last is a technical problem that is wonderfully solved. Years ago one often used to see wrinkles in shoes, which spoiled the contour to the eye and irritated the feet. Nowadays, by some craftsman's magic, the upper seems to emerge from the sole as if it grew there.

It will be strange, indeed, if many of the fighters of Europe, who are now to wear American shoes for the first time, are not attracted by their soft comfort after they return to normal occupations.

Europe's Evasion.

The American impulse is to relieve manifest distress first without coldly calculating whose is the responsibility observes the Pittsburg Dispatch, which adds: This has been the case strikingly in regard to the Belgians. Their plight was so piteous that for a time there seemed some danger that our own deserving might be overlooked but that, it is hoped, is passed. We now realize that our first duty is to our own, and then not only to the Belgians, but to the victims of the war in all countries.

Meanwhile, since the first horror of the war's havoc has been, not indeed softened, but familiarized, so that we can give the situation calmer consideration, there is a growing indication to inquiry why, since the warring nations can find billions for killing and destroying, they should not be able equally to issue bonds to take care of those improverished by governmental destructiveness. Regarded in this light the commendations heaped upon America in the warring nations for our prompt ameliorative assistance sound somewhat hollow. The cynical may suggest that if aiding the war-stricken is so noble, our European friends might better engage in it themselves instead of evading it and relying on the charity of Americans. But their role seems to be billions for offense and not a cent for charity.

Will Re-Elect Wilson.

Congressman-elect McKinley of Illinois sees a rejuvenated and reunited Republican party in 1916 victorious over its foes, "provided that from now on we emphasize the defects of the Democratic administration." That is all the Republicans have been doing for twenty-one months. When they could not find defects they invented them, and all they got out of it was another Democratic house of representatives and a senate a little more strongly Democratic than it was before. Let them keep on chattering about the "defects of the Democratic administration," and Mr. Wilson will be reelected without an effort.—Philadelphia Record.

May Be True.

Made in America.

One of the new industries is the making of optical glass. We have long been famous for the grinding of lenses, big and little, but the rough glass has come from Europe, and generally from Germany. As 10,000,000 of us wear glasses, and about half that number carry cameras, the prospect at the beginning of the war was discouraging; we did not need lenses to see that. But in Pittsburg and some other places good optical glass is now made in America.—Philadelphia Record.

Progress of War.

The entry into Belgrade of King Peter of Servia, at the head of his troops, and the return of President Poincare and Premier Viviani to Paris, may not count as great military achievements, but both events have a distinct bearing on the course of the war. The capture by the enemy of both capitals was once supposed to be only a matter of a few days, and their occupation by hostile forces to be an important consideration in arriving at the terms of peace.—New York World.

Creating New Business.

An interesting announcement is that of a concern which plans to produce potash and other chemicals hitherto imported from Germany, to be immediately established at Easton. We have plenty of potash in this country, but hitherto it has not been commercially profitable to work the deposits. Of course, we are abundantly supplied with the raw material for coal tar dyes. Many chemicals usually imported can be made here, and while the persons undertaking a new industry incur a considerable amount of risk this is inseparable from all manufactures. We have had plenty of pioneer manufacturers who took chances and created a large business.—Philadelphia Record.

PROSPERITY COMING.

Prosperity is due, the sunshine statesmen say; hard times, that made us blue, will shortly pass away. "The outlook sure is fine," the gentle Woodrow cries, and Redfield's whiskers shine, and twinkling are his eyes. For gratitude devout we'll soon have ample cause; we'll see the working out of our new tariff laws We'll all be spieling thanks, our bosoms full of thrills; our patent duplex banks will heal all human ills. Our blessed income tax will soon relieve the poor, and heap on rich men's backs as much as they'll endure. The gloomy days are done, the sunshine sharps declare; our place is in the sun, and we'll be happy there. When griefs are also rans, and we are fortune's pets, we'll bless kind Woodrow's plans and Redfield's whiskerettes. For men are growing tired of living on fresh air, of furnaces unfired, and cupboards grimly bare. It's sad to see the hosts of hungry unemployed, who are convinced no ghosts will walk to fill the void. The plunks we chase so hard are scarce as dragon's teeth; it's sad to see the bard compelled to eat his wrath. Ho, then, for better days! We'll greet them with a grin, and we'll be free with praise when they are ushered in!

The house was decorated in red and green trimmings in honor of Christmas. Various games were enjoyed throughout the evening, while Miss Margaret Herman of Columbus played various selections upon the piano. In the divorce case of Zoe Gruber vs. Albert Gruber, the defendant has filed an answer in which after admitting the marriage on a certain date and the birth of two children, he denies every other allegation of the plaintiff and charges her with leaving home on numerous occasions and remaining out all night, telling him that she was the guest of friends and that inquiries developed the fact that she had not been at places she named. He also states that she neglected to provide him with meals and also failed to attend to other household duties, wherefore the defendant prays for a divorce and the custody of the minor children and all other equitable relief.

Berlin Still in Festive Array, Celebrating the Reported Victory in Poland.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Berlin, Dec. 18.—Via The Hague and London, Dec. 19.—Delayed in Transmission.—Berlin was still in festive array today, celebrating the reported victory in Poland, but the people experienced a shade of disappointment from the brevity of the official war bulletin, which failed to supply any further details of the Polish engagement. The newspaper points out this afternoon that the present developments in the eastern arena of the war will require several days to reach a stage where the net results can be approximately set forth

In the meanwhile various rumors are in circulation concerning the very large number of prisoners taken by the Germans.

Rudolph von Valentini chief of Emperor William's civil cabinet, answering a telegram from the east Prussian synod to the emperor wrote as follows:

"His Majesty confidently trusts that the unswerving will to conquer with God's help will lead the fatherland through the present trying days to a happier future.

"By imperial order.

SLUSHY ROAD ALMOST CAUSED AN ACCIDENT

The slushy streets and roads cause automobile drivers much concern. Saturday morning Sheriff Frank E. Slabaugh was driving over the concrete road west of the city when he encountered a horse and buggy and the horse shied at the approaching auto and turned broadside almost obstructing the road with the rig. Sheriff Slabaugh quickly turned his machine aside to avoid a collision and as he did so the machine skidded and swerving to the side struck a tree, bending the fenders. When the car stopped the sheriff was completely turned around, just opposite to the direction which he had been driving. His quick precision, however, avoided an accident in which much damage might have been done.

No Politics In Mustering Out Regiment

ADJUTANT GENERAL WOODS EXPLAINS THAT HE CONSULTED WILLIS' APPOINTEE

And That the Only Reason Was That Only 11 Companies Were Available.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Columbus, Dec. 19. — Adjutant General George H. Woods, today replied to the charge that the order for disbandonment of the Seventh Regiment Ohio National guard, issued yesterday was for political reasons. He announced that the order was made only after a conference with Lieut. Col. W. B. Hough, a Republican who has been appointed adjutant general by Governor Elect Willis.

General Wood repeated his explanation that the only reason for the order was that the regiment had only 11 companies, whereas 12 are required by the war department. He declared also that nine months were allowed for reorganization of Company K, of Portsmouth, which disbanded last March, reducing the number of companies to 11, whereas strict compliance with war department regulations would have demanded issuance of the mustering out order at the end of six months.

Col. Harry D. Knox, of Marietta, commanding officer of the disbanded regiment, who will lose his position, charged the action was for political reasons, since he, a Republican, was elected state representative over a Democrat.

Attorney for William V. Cleary Makes Appeal to Jury on That Ground.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

New City, N. Y., Dec. 19.—Defense and prosecution in the trial of William V. Cleary, former town clerk of Haverstraw, charged with the murder of his son-in-law, Eugene M. Newman, today summed up their case to the jury. Each side was allowed two hours. Justice Morschauser announced that he would deliver his charge to the jury at the opening of the afternoon session. The jury was to retire immediately thereafter. A quick verdict was expected.

In his address to the jury, Frank Comesky, Cleary's chief counsel, appealed, in a measure, to the unwritten law. The defendant's wife, sitting at the counsel table, wept when reference was made to Cleary's love for his daughter. Mr. Comesky laid emphasis upon the statement that when Cleary received information to the effect that his daughter was about to become a mother he was driven temporarily insane.

In his summing up, District Attorney Gagan attacked the insanity defense and said that, although the jury might decide not to find Cleary guilty of murder in the first degree, it had no right to free him.

The sensation of the trial came last night when Anna Cleary Newman, widow of Eugene Newman, and daughter of the defendant, told from the witness stand a story corroborating the testimony of her mother and father, who had preceded her. Mrs. Newman told of her marriage to Eugene Newman five days before the shooting, declaring that she kept the fact a secret from her father and mother, and in answer to questions affirmed the contention of the defense that Newman was the father of her unborn child, which fact Clearly previously had stated caused him to lose his reason when his son-in-law called to inform him of the secret marriage.

It was generally believed that the testimony of Cleary's daughter, together with the affectionate meeting of father and child in the courtroom last night had created a profound impression on the jury.

GERMAN REPORT MANY REPULSES NEAR NIEUPORT

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Berlin, Dec. 19. (By wireless to London.) An official statement was given out in Berlin this afternoon as follows:

"Yesterday there took place a series of hostile attacks in the western arena of the war. The fighting continues at Nieuport, Bixschoote and Labassee. We repulsed attacks of the enemy to the west of Lens, east of Albert, and west of Noyon.

"On the East Prussian frontier a Russian cavalry attack to the west of Pillkallen was repulsed."

Definite Saving Plan

The remarkable and uniform success of the 1400 people who joined our Christmas Money Club last year —the ease with which they have accumulated the sums they started out to save, shows how easy it is to accomplish saving if a definite plan is followed.

If YOU have never been able to save, may we suggest that you try the Christmas Money Club, and join not only the class which accumulates the amount you wish for Christmas, but also some one of the other classes and keep this last amount as a permanent saving fund.

Many did this last year and now have a fair start toward a good sized account and also have proven their ability to save and made it a fixed habit.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

New York, Dec. 19.—Price changes in today's early dealings suggested that yesterday's interstate commerce commission decision has spent its force, for a time at least. The opening was exceedingly narrow, with a light volume of business, mostly in 100 share lots. Canadian Pacific and its subsidiary "Soo" were prominent for one point advances, with two points for Delaware and Hudson. These were partly offset by fractional declines in some of the better known shares. By the end of the first half hour a firmer tendency was noted.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Chicago, Dec. 19.—Wheat took a new upward swing today, influenced mainly by stronger cables. Liverpool dispatches referred to keener demand, the result of recent German naval activity and of adverse crop conditions in Argentina. Predictions here that the United States visible supply total would show a substantial decrease, counted also against the bears. The opening which ranged from ¼ to @1½ higher was followed by a slight reaction, and then by a rise higher than before.

Corn hardened with wheat. Rural offerings were light. After opening, ⅛ off to a like advance, the market scored a little upturn all around. Slowness formed the rule in oats. The market, however, gradually responded to the strength of other cereals.

Grain advances had a stimulating effect on provisions. At first, though prices tended to sag on account of larger receipts of hogs than expected.

SAGE TEA TURNS GRAY HAIR DARK

It's Grandmother's recipe to bring color, lustre and thickness to hair when faded, streaked or gray.

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray, streaked and looks dry, wispy and scraggly, just an application or two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred-fold.

Don't bother to prepare the tonic; you can get from any drug store a 50 cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," ready to use. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural hair and remove dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair.

Everybody uses "Wyeth's" Sage and Sulphur because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy, lustrous and abundant. These Foods Not Used Enough.

There is small reason to doubt that the proper development of tree crops would greatly enrich and cheapen the food supply of the American people and their domestic animals. The chief trouble seems to be that we have not thought about it. Most of the crop trees of value of Europe have been introduced into this country, such as the olive, fig, date, the acorn and cork oak, the walnut, pistache and almond. Our native trees, such as the pecan, shagbark, mulberry, honey locust, mesquite and persimmon, offer great promise if properly selected, propagated, improved by plant breeding and tested by experiment. All this requires scientific work. Now that we have spent a quarter of a century developing the equipment for the promotion of agricultural science the time has probably come when attention can be turned in part from the herb of the field to the more productive tree that has long made the oriental garden so productive.—J. Russell Smith in Atlantic.

Old English Army Orders.

A quaint army order was issued in England in 1743, which said, "No officer or man to wear a white feather, lest they be taken for the French!"

In those days, too, they apparently found it necessary to issue instructions regarding enlistments that would certainly be out of place today, such as the following in 1743, "Sailors and colliers never make good soldiers, being accustomed to a more drunken way of life than what a private sentinel's pay can admit of." Another such war office mandate, directed to recruiting sergeants in 1781 said, "You must enlist no strollers, vagabonds, tinkers, chimney sweeps or sailors!"

Much humor—probably similarly unconscious—marked the more general army orders of those stern old times.—London Answers.

Superstitions of Siam.

In Siam all babies receive the same name at birth. This name is Dang, which means red, and it is the only designation vouchsafed the newcomer for some months. For several years they wear no clothing except perhaps a string of beads or bracelets or anklets as ornament. At a child's birth a cord that has been blessed by the priests is tied round the outside of the house and three balls of rice are thrown in "lucky directions" by three old women, who are always present at such a time and whose business it is to solicit for the little one the patronage and protection of guardian angels. The cord and the scattering about the premises of a certain kind of native fruit are supposed to be efficacious in preventing the entrance of evil spirits.

No Winner.

Sublime satisfaction in one's own powers must be a very delightful condition, but a celebrated English musician, Dr. Arne, who flourished in the first half of the seventeenth century, for once very wittily turned the tables on some singers of this type. He was asked to decide on the respective powers of two vocalists whose talents existed entirely in their own imaginations. After hearing them Dr. Arne said to one, "You are the worst singer I ever heard in my life."

Then exclaimed the other, "I win!"

"No," answered the just judge; "you can't sing at all."—Argonaut.

What She Didn't Say.

The young man should have gone home an hour before, but he was still lingering and making conversation. The girl was desperate.

"Oh, I say, Miss Frances," he said, "would you rather say something and mean nothing than say nothing and mean something? We were discussing that this evening at dinner and left it undecided."

And the girl never said a word.—Lippincott's.

Would Like to See It.

"I done heard it read in de paper," said Uncle Raspberry, "dat some o' dese here flyin' machine gemmen says a man kin do anything a bird kin."

"That's what they say," said Aunt Chloe.

"Well, when any o' 'em sees a man sit fas' asleep, holdin' on to a tree branch wif his feet, I sho' wishes dey'd call me to have a look."—Ladies' Home Journal.

Imagination.

"You don't care much for the dialect author?"

"No," admitted Mr. Rafferty.

"But you must admit that he has imagination."

"He has. He goes right ahead imagining that an Irishman says 'Oi' instead of 'I' and 'phwat' instead of 'what.'"—Washington Star.

Her Belief.

"Do you," he asked, "believe in early marriage?"

"Well," she replied, "I used to, but I am willing to say that at present I believe 'better late than never' may be applied to marriage as well as to some other things."—Brooklyn Citizen.

In the Market.

Agent—Have you become converted to life insurance yet? Prospective Risk—No, but I've got four companies bidding for me.—Philadelphia Ledger.

A Polygamist.

"What's a polygamist, pop?"

"Very often he's a fellow who has more money than he knows what to do with."—Philadelphia Bulletin.

'Tis well for one to do once every thing one can do in order to have the merit of knowing oneself more intimately.—Goethe.

You can't always tell from a family tree how badly it needs pruning.

Is Your Life Insured?

Have you a wife, or Children?

Have you Mother, Father, Sister, Brother, or other relative dependent on you? Or do you owe debts you can't pay?

Have you an estate sufficient to provide immediate funds for funeral expenses and pressing debts, with enough left for Wife and Children, in case of your death?

Do you want your Wife, or young Children, to be forced to earn their own living when you are gone? Don't you want to be safe and comfortable in your old age?

Are you willing that your children be left impoverished or uneducated? Have you provided against it?

Are you not liable to die any day? Don't men of your age die every day? And don't they often leave wife and children to struggle for bread, clothes and shelter, or go to the Poor House?

C. W. GUNION.

And don't you know that by insuring your life you can safeguard every one of these dangers? In no other way can it be done at so small a cost. Then why don't you do it?

Do you want your neighbors, after you are dead, to say of You that "you made no provision for your family?" Yet you swore at the Marriage Altar to protect and shield your Wife; and that oath also covers your children. And do you wish your creditors to reproach you when you are in your grave?

Have you done your full duty by all of them? If not, do it now by carrying sufficient LIFE INSURANCE.

A Natural Query.

In the office window of a certain street railway company there is a sign which reads:

MOTORMEN AND CONDUCTORS EMPLOYED ONLY ON MONDAYS AND THURSDAYS

A typical Irishman from the old sod happened along, and the sign struck his eye. Pausing, he slowly spelled out the words, while an expression of bewilderment overspread his face.

"Only worruk Moonday an' We'n's day, is ut?" he was overheard to mutter to himself. "Thin phwat th' divil do th' byes do all th' rist av th' wake?"—Lippincott's.

HEAD STUFFED FROM CATARRH OR A COLD

Says Cream Applied in Nostrils Opens Air Passages Right Up.

Instant relief—no waiting. Your clogged nostrils open right up; the air passages of your head clear and you can breathe freely. No more hawking, snuffling, blowing, headache, dryness. No struggling for breath at night; your cold or catarrh disappears.

Get a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm from your druggist now. Apply a little of this fragrant, antiseptic, healing cream in your nostrils. It penetrates through every air passage of the head, soothes the inflamed or swollen mucous membrane and relief comes instantly.

It's just fine. Don't stay stuffed-up with a cold or nasty catarrh.

Offhand Courtship.

On the shores of the Moray firth—the spot need not be more specifically localized—there is a flourishing little village of some 1,400 inhabitants, consisting chiefly of fisher folk. The young man and maiden do not court in the orthodox fashion. Their method is much more prosaic, and what is characteristic of one case may generally be accepted as characteristic of them all. There is, of course, an occasional instance of genuine old fashioned courtship, but that is a rather rare exception.

"Mother," said one young man on his return from a successful herring fishing, "I'm goan to get merrid." "Weel, Jeems, I think ye sh'd just gang an' ask yer cousin Marack." And as he had no particular preference he went straight away to ask her.

"Wull ye tak me, Marack?" was the brusque and businesslike query which he put to the young woman in the presence of her sister Bella.

But Mary had promised her hand to another that same evening. "I canna tak ye, Jeems," was her reply, and then, turning to her sister, "Tak ye 'im, Bellak." And the sister took him.—Chambers' Journal.

A Glimpse of Whittier.

In Mary Thacher Higginson's "Life of Thomas Wentworth Higginson" is this sketch of Whittier as he appeared upon first acquaintance:

"I spent a day in Amesbury and saw Whittier. Dark, slender, bald, black haired, kind, calm, flashing eyed, keen, somewhat narrow, not commanding, but interesting. Evidently injured by politics, easily content with limited views, yet sympathetic and (probably) generous. Lives in an appropriate cottage, yet very simple. A queer compound of Yankee Quaker and Yankee hero and Yankee poet, the nationality everywhere. He would whittle, no doubt. But his eye gleamed with a soft, beautiful tenderness as he came to the door and remarked on the cold sunset sky. He lives with an odd Quaker dressed mother, who haunted the back room with knitting and spectacles."

Learning and Looks.

In J. P. Oliveria Martin's "Prince Henry, the Navigator," is this curious extract from the will of Judge Mangancha, who bequeathed all he had to the founding of the University of Coimbra (1448):

"The college shall not admit rich noblemen, coxcombs, drunkards, rovers, stammerers nor any addicted to vice nor any crooked nosed nor fat faced person nor any with the complexion of rosemary, even though they be virtuous."

"Ten pauper scholars and four servitors without alms or beasts" were to be received into this now famous college "already tutored and over sixteen years of age." The founder, a fine swordsman and an astute scholar, "was learned, brave and restless."

When Mansfield Was Hungry.

In Paul Wilstach's "Richard Mansfield" the actor's early struggles to gain a foothold on the stage in London are described in his own words:

"For years," said Mansfield, "I went home to my room, if fortunately I had one, and perhaps a tallow dip was stuck in the neck of a bottle, and I was fortunate if I had something to cook for myself over a fire, if I had a fire. That was my life. When night came I wandered about the streets of London, and if I had a penny I invested it in baked potatoes from the baked potato man on the corner. I would put these hot potatoes in my pockets, and after I had warmed my hands I would swallow the potatoes. That is the truth."

Palmerston and the Derby.

The Derby has had many devotees, but none more ardent than Lord Palmerston. For fifty years, as regularly as clockwork, the popular statesman galloped down to Epsom on Derby day, and it was to his great disgust that on his last visit he was compelled by infirmity and foul weather to make the journey in a carriage. As he saw the French horse Gladiateur forge ahead that day he said to a friend, "If the foreigner wins I shall not live through the year." Gladiateur won, and in less than four months "Pam" was dead.—London Chronicle.

Not Disconcerted.

An old negro minister was recently interrupted in the course of his sermon by a loud laugh from one of the congregation. He stopped his discourse and said:

"De 'postle has told us dat 'er hearty laugh does good like medicine,' but de brudder is 'spectfully 'minded dat dis ain't er doctor's office nor er 'pothecary's shop," and then he resumed his sermon.—Los Angeles Times.

Neutral.

"Your daughter seems to have a great many suitors."

"Yes, at least four or five."

"Which one does she favor?"

"I don't know. She seems to be observing a strict neutrality."—Detroit Free Press.

Poetical.

"That poet is a genius."

"Why?"

"He rimes raiment with payment. Tailors will tell you that they rarely go together."—Exchange.

She Had.

CONCLUSION

OF PUBLIC HEARING BEFORE NAVAL COMMITTEE AND EVIDENCE IN.

Members Expect to Complete Draft of Bill for Naval Appropriations, Next Week.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Washington, Dec. 19.—With the completion of public hearings and with a great mass of testimony before them, individual members of the house naval affairs committee today began informal study of this year's naval appropriation bill. Public hearings were concluded yesterday with the testimony of Representative Gardner of Massachusetts, who initiated in congress the movement for an investigation of the preparedness of the United States for war.

Although the naval committee will not meet until Monday, when it will set to its work in earnest, committeemen today were going over the testimony adduced during the hearings and comparing it with the estimates and recommendations of the navy department. The committee expects to complete the bill next and report to the house before the holiday recess.

Public hearings on the measure were quite a departure from the usual custom of framing a naval appropriation bill and during the past fortnight created the liveliest interest.

Representative Roberts has submitted to the committee a statement, based on a communication from Secretary Daniels, comparing the annual recommendations of the general board of the navy with what congress actually granted during the years 1903-1914. The statement shows that during that period the general board recommended thirty-eight battleships; one armored cruiser, three protected cruisers, and two battle cruisers. Of these recommendations congress authorized the following:

Seventeen battleships; two armored cruisers and no protected cruisers or battle cruisers. Other important recommendations made by the board were one hundred and eleven destroyers, of which congress authorized fifty-two; thirty-four scout cruisers, of which congress allowed three, and thirty submarines, which congress increased to fifty-five.

MEDIEVAL TIMES SUGGESTED IN THE BELGIAN HOTELS.

(Associated Press Correspondence)

Brussels, Nov. 30.—About the only modern suggestion at the beautiful Hotel de Ville, where helmeted, breast-plated German officers, some with fur dolmans and fur busbys, are reminders of pictures of medieval times, is the line of civilians who want permits to leave. The line is usually three abreast and stretches a hundred yards or more into the street. Permits are issued freely at fees of from three to fifteen francs each.

In one of the great hotels of the magnificent building is a large table, around which soldiers may usually be seen, drinking beer from steins. On the walls are hung the side arms and accoutrements which have been laid aside by the guard for greater comfort while awaiting orders. From time to time an officer comes in and orders four men to go here, or six there, and there is a buckling on of arms and the detachment leaves with considerable bustle and clanking.

A Gentle Hint.

He "Are we supposed still to be engaged?" She—"Oh, yes. All engagements made in the summer are understood to continue in force until after Christmas."—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

Christmas Greetings.

Another year is rapidly approaching its close and we think we hear the faint cadence of the dying year.

With some the past year has been frought with nothing but sunshine and unalloyed happiness—with others, nothing but sorrow and disappointment seems to have fallen to their lot. How many who only a year ago, greeted the coming year with happy homes, who are today mourning the loss of some dear loved ones. Why should we repine and make others unhappy? It does not bring our loved ones back Why then let us be reconsiled to our lot, be it ever so hard to bear.

When we think how many sad homes throughout this broad land into whose dark recesses not a ray of light or happiness ever enters When we compare our lot with theirs, how happy and contented we should be. Let us try to do everything in our power to dispel this terrible gloom by some kindly acts. Remembering that nothing in this world brings so much genuine happiness as doing kindly acts to the poor and suffering.

Let us be thankful that the horrors of civil war which now seems to be desolating the whole of Europe has not reached our fair land. Let us be thankful that we have a grand and noble president, who is a peace-maker—opposed to war in all its forms.

Let us then be joyous and happy today, even though it is tinged with grief and disappointment. Let us twine our homes with the ivy, mistletoe, and for-get-me-nots. Let us give expression to lively strains of music, poke up the fire so that by so-doing we may dispel any dark forebodings or unhappiness which may be tempted to cross the threshold of our happy homes. Let us remember that life is short and time is fleeing. Let us improve the golden moments of this Christmas ere they slip from our grasp, and as we gather around the family fireside and watch the smouldering embers, let us take heart and try to make others happy and cheery if we can't be ourselves, and while the faint echoes of the dying year are unconsciously slipping from us, may the new year have many good things in store for us all.

Let us hope that the death angel may not cast its dark shadow over our hearthstones.

Wishing you all a merry Christmas and a happy New Year.

County Jail.

Will the friends of the city please remember the men a-tthe count jail during this Christmas-time amidst the other pressing claims just now. Many of the men there have been behind the bars for some time, some months, and needless to say, that some consideration to those debarred from liberty and its privileges will be much appreciated—such as apples, oranges, tobacco, magazines, and any other contribution that will help to brighten their lot. Parcels may be left for the undersigned at the Y. M. C. A., or sent to me.

The religious services that are being held on Sunday afternoons are much appreciated and undoubtedly largely sought for, the men come out fine to the meetings and enter heartily on the singing, and pay every attention to the messages given. Several of the men join very sincerely in public prayer, having fully decided to quit booze and bad companions and lead a Christian life.

Don't forget the men at the jail as I have no funds for this work. Let them feel that they are not forgotten. Little help will add brightness and some cheer this Christmas season. Call up R. Northey 4408 205 West Locust street. Newark.

GLOOMY LETTERS NOT RECEIVED BY FRENCH SOLDIERS

(Associated Press Correspondence)

Paris, Nov. 30.—Only letters that are devoid of all gloomy news or utterances are permitted to reach the hands of French soldiers. This is in accord with an irrevocable rule of the military authorities. They also insist that all communications must be either unsealed, or written on postcards.

One family complained that it received letters from a son almost daily, but after a month of war he had not received a single word from home. Investigation showed that each one of the letters written by the boy's mother contained such words as "desolation" and "despair." She was told that her son was seeing enough desolation at the front and did not need to hear about the despair at home. The style of the letters changed, and now they are arriving promptly.

Cold weather and the shipment of warm clothing and other comforts to the soldiers tended to delay the delivery of letters. The automobile club volunteered its services and hundreds of automobiles carried packages to the trenches, until the Germans became aware of the arrangement. They captured ten motor cars filled with packages of heavy underwear, jerseys, sweaters, tobacco, cigarettes, cigars, pipes and cigarette lighters. Some fond mothers sent preserves cakes, cold chicken and pate-de-fois-gras, One package that met with an accident enroute was found to contain even a bottle of perfume.

Theatres

At the Hartman.

Klaw & Erlanger will present at the Hartman Theatre, Columbus, for three nights, Christmas and Saturday matinee, beginning Thursday, December 24th, the mirthful comedy "The Little Cafe." Those who had the opportunity of seeing this delightful musical comedy, which was conceived, indeed, for the merriment of the world, while it ran for nearly a year at the New Amsterdam Theatre in New York remember with delight its many surprises, the quaintness of song and the drolleries of action which lend strength to the claim for "The Little Cafe" that it is indeed the last word in musical comedy a mounting and background of stunning richness while the refreshing humor and wit of the lyrics and lines of C. M. S. McClellan, combined with Ivan Caryll's enchanting musical numbers, who were also the author and composer of "The Pink Lady" and "Oh! Oh! Delphine" make up with what will prove to be the musical sensation of the theatrical season in this city. The cast of over 10 people is the original one seen in New York.

FRATERNITY BOYS SUBSCRIBE TO ELK XMAS CHEER FUND

The Phi Sigma Chi, a young man's fraternity of this city, Friday evening sent $10 to the Elk Christmas committee with the request that it be used in assisting to furnish Christmas cheer for the worthy poor.

A number of business houses over the city have signified their intention of furnishing contributions for the 200 baskets which the Elks will distribute.

The committee, of which Dr. Jud T. Lewis is chairman, with his fellow committeemen, Messrs, Joseph Schrier, John Braddock, William Maholm, Clem Cole, John Miller and Wm. H. Broome, request that all autos for distribution of baskets report at the office formerly occupied by the Sprague Wholesale Grocery Co., corner of East Main and First streets, Thursday afternoon at 1 o'clock, Mr. Sprague having kindly donated the room for use in preparing the baskets

The committee has decided that the following shall comprise a basket: one small sack of flour, sack of corn meal, three quarts of beans, rice, coffee, one peck of potatoes, five pounds salt, three pounds of lard, four pounds of beef, canned goods, crackers, bread, soap, and where there are children, mittens and stockings.

The Christmas tree is being wired by an expert electrician and a number of young ladies will decorate it either Monday or Tuesday so that it may be ready for display on Christmas eve. Old Kris Kringle will accompany the tree in its rounds over the city. To the good little boys and girls he meets he will have a package of sweets for them.

AVIATOR

BLOWN TO BITS BY GERMAN ARTILLERISTS AFTER FINDING CRAFT'S RANGE.

At a Great Height He was Safe, but Unwarily Came Lower to His Destruction.

Berlin, Nov. 30.—(The Associated Press Correspondence.) A German artillerist, writing from Bapaume, France, tells of the death of a French aviator who was brought down by German gunners.

"Today I saw a French aviator brought down by our guns," he said. "The French flyers had been growing bolder and bolder, especially in reconnoitering behind our front, and so we concealed a half battery of howitzers in a village about four miles to the rear in order to teach them a lesson. Things happened as we expected; by eight o'clock in the morning there came an aeroplane sailing with the greatest assurance in the world. The guns at the front were not permitted to fire, and after passing them the aviator, thinking all danger past, kept coming lower, reaching finally a level of only about 1,000 feet Not suspecting that he would encounter German artillery so far to the rear he came within easy shooting distance for our gunners in the village.

"Suddenly two shots were heard, and two little white clouds were observed in the air not far from the aeroplane. The aviator remained virtually at the same spot, until he was almost enveloped by the next two cloudlets; one shot exploded just in front of him, the other just behind him. Our men had gotten their range very quickly. Then followed two more shots, one a little to the right, the other just to the left as through my field glasses the aeroplane seemed to waver, as if it had been damaged. It did not seem to obey its steering gear, for it could not get away from the spot.

"The next two shots fired almost simultaneously settled its fate. The first one cut off a wing smoothly. The other was a square hit, and the apparatus was scattered to the four winds. I have not seen such a beautiful shot in the whole war The gun-pointer who fired it had already distinguished himself on several occasion, and he won the iron cross with today's achievement. The fragments of this aeroplane were picked up afterwards from a wide range of ground but of the aviator only a few bits were found.

"Yesterday," the letter continued, "We set up some boards in an abandoned position to resemble a gun shield. Then we sawed off some logs and painted them to look like cannon muzzles when placed in position between the boards. Today the French peppered away at this supposed battery and fired 172 shots before their aviators could tell them that they had been duped."

These contributions will be greatly appreciated.

Fined for Theft.
Ralph Mohler was fined $1 and costs in police court Saturday morning on a charge of petit larceny, August Sissea in an affidavit charged Mohler with the theft of two pool table covers valued at $17. The young man was released on his promise to find a job and pay the fine.

Took Wrong Coat.
Among the four drunks fined in Mayor Bigbee's court Saturday morning was one man who was also charged with theft. This charge was not prosecuted when it developed that he took the wrong coat from a hook in the pool room where he was playing during the afternoon. Two prowlers were ordered from the city.

Frazeysburg Is Booming.
Attorney A. J. Riley of Frazeysburg was in the city today, having been called here to try a case in the court of Justice D M. Jones. Mr. Riley states that the merchants of the thriving little village on the Muskingum county line are enjoying an excellent business and that things there generally are on the boom. He is a good "booster" for his home town.

Open Season Closes.
The open season for hunting rabbits in "self-defense" closes today. The season was extended beyond december 4, on account of the quarantine against the foot and mouth disease of cattle. Since the season opened, about two weeks ago, thousands of rabbits have been slaughtered in Licking county. Hundreds of them were on the market today and were retailing at twenty-five cents each.

Slush Succeeds Cold.
A light fall of rain early Saturday morning melting the snow made it very slushy and disagreeable. Merchants who were looking for a large influx of people from the rural districts will be disappointed as it is hardly probable that they will brave the inclement weather. Coming just at this season of the year when Newark merchants had laid in a large holiday stock is indeed a hardship upon them. However, the weatherman has promised snows and colder weather Sunday and that will mean better trade conditions will follow.

Christmas Entertainment.
This year, the First Presbyterian Sunday school will use a program entitled, "White Gifts for the King." This exercise has been used by many schools with wonderful effect for several years. It is based upon a legend of Cathay, that on the King's birthday all his subjects brought their gifts to him, and no matter how humble they were, they were all alike in the eyes of the king. With this idea in view the members and friends of the church are going to bring their gifts for the King in the shape of food stuffs and clothing for the poor; in addition an offering will be taken for the same purpose. Slips will be handed out Sunday for the purpose of designing consecration of Self, Service and Substance, to the service of King Jesus.

SEEK DEMENTED MAN AT HANOVER.

Police Chief Sheridan and Officers Hurbaugh and Donley went to Hanover on the 2 o'clock interurban car Saturday afternoon on a search for Anthony Barcky, 53, of Pittsburg, who is believed to be in the vicinity of that village. Barcky escaped from an attendant of a sanitarium at Pittsburg, Dec. 10, and was traced as far as Hanover. No word has been received from the officers at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

French Report Advances Over Difficult Road

TERRITORY TAKEN BY ALLIES, SOUTH OF DIXMUDE, IS ORGANIZED.

Admits Necessity of Abandoning One Trench, and Slight Progress of Enemy at Another.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Paris, Dec. 19.—The French war office this afternoon gave out an official announcement as follows:

"During the day of December 18, we organized in Belgium the territory won from the enemy the evening before to the south of Dixmude, and we advanced our front to the south of the Inn, at Kerter.

Our advance to the south of Ypres has been continued over a very difficult and swampy territory.

"From the Lys to the Oise we have progressed in the region of Notre Dame de Consolation, to the south of Labasse, by more than one kilometre. During the past two days we also made progress in the direction of Carency, St. Laurent and Blangy.

"In spite of very spirited counter attacks, the positions taken by us December 17 have been retained.

"In the region of Albert, during the night from December 17 to 18, and during the day of the 18th, we advanced under a very violent fire of the enemy, and we reached the barbed-wire entanglements of the second line of German trenches. To the north of Maricourt we were obliged to abandon a trench occupied the night before and set on fire by the enemy by means of hand grenades.

"Several German trenches have been occupied in the region of Mamets and in the vicinity of Lyhons, three violent counter-attacks on the part of the Germans have been repulsed.

"In the region of the Aisne there have been artillery engagements and in Champagne the artillery of the enemy showed December 18 increased activity as compared to the 17th.

"In the Argonne in the forest of Lagrurie, we blew up a German undermining trench. Near St. Hubert the enemy, by a very spirited attack, succeeded in making slight progress.

"It has been confirmed that on the heights of the Meuse our fire, directed by aviators, demolished two heavy batteries of the enemy and damaged a third battery.

"From the Meuse to the Vosges there is nothing to report. In the Vosges there has been spirited German rifle firing, but no attack.

"In Poland the pursuit of the enemy continues."

In Response To Inquiries

We wish to say that people who join our CHRISTMAS MONEY CLUB do not have to spend all or even part of the money for next Christmas.

Many who started last year have re-deposited a part—in some cases all—of the check we sent them this December.

We found that this idea of saving a definite sum on a definite plan for a certain purpose, so appealed to people that many went into the Club to save money for the December taxes, to meet debts, insurance premiums, or other obligations, and for many other commendable purposes.

The Christmas Money Club offers a practical plan to save sums varying from $25.50 to $63.75, or even more, in fifty small weekly payments that are never missed.

ON NEXT DECEMBER 15 WE MAIL YOU A CHECK, WITH INTEREST AT 4%.

You Can Use the Money in Any Way You Wish

Charity Bodies to Unite In Movement to Aid Humanity

The following letter has been prepared and will be mailed late today to all organizations in the city interested in charity work. If any such organization does not receive the letter, it is an unintentional oversight, as an effort has been made to reach every organization.

All organizations interested are expected to send representatives. The letter follows:

"A meeting will be held in the council chamber, city building, at Fourth and Main streets, Tuesday, Dec. 29, at 3:30 p. m., for the purpose of uniting all organizations in the city doing charity work.

"Your organization is requested to send a representative to this meeting with full authority to assist in perfecting an organization that will systematically conduct such work.

"The need of such an organization has been apparent for several years and the conditions now are such that the need is greater than ever. It was the sentiment of the public meeting held Tuesday, Dec. 15, that such organization should be non-sectarian.

"Respectfully,

"R. C. BIGBEE.

Money, Intelligence, Sympathy And Patience Should Become Corner Stones of Organization

Editor of the Advocate:

Sir—I hail with joy and gladness the initiatory steps that have been taken to effect a general charity organization in Newark and am cherishing the largest possible faith that the enterprise will be pushed to a complete consummation.

I am not prepared to name all the materials that should enter into the construction of this temple—if I may call it a temple—but I would beg leave to mention what I think should be its four cornerstones.

First—Money. And from the attendence at last Thursday's meeting I am satisfied that some of our more prosperous people are ready to contribute to the starting and carrying on of this good work, and I am persuaded that many more will not deny themselves the high privilege of giving it substantial support. No fabulous sum will be required; but money must talk, if the organization is made a going concern.

Second—Intelligence. For the giving of help to the needy in such wise as to be most beneficial to them should never be done with blinded or discolored eyes. It requires a clear understanding of their situation and good judgment as to both the matter and the manner of the material help they ought to receive. It also requires more or less knowledge of their tempers and dispositions as well as a general knowledge of human nature; for the objects of charity are very much like other people. They are not all angels any more than the rest of us!

The third cornerstone that I would propose for this edifice is: respect and sympathy for the needy and unfortunate, ever remembering that they are creatures of the same flesh and blood that we are, and that they should always be treated exactly as we would want to be treated, if we were in their places. For this is the law and the prophets. Impatience, abruptness, brusqueness, harshness and severity of speech and all such like should have no place in charity work, lest we wrong our own souls thereby. And right here let me venture the assertion, that there is far more danger of hurting people's self-respect by an unfriendly spirit and manner than by giving to them too freely.

Fourthly—Let patience have her perfect work, even to infinity. Let none be outcasts from our sympathy and interest, even if they seem unworthy of one consideration. All persons who need help are "worthy" of it and the law of kindness and the principle of the Golden Rule should have due application to all God's creatures, whether they be human beings or animals.

People who need help also need helpfulness. (Do we not all need helpfulness for that matter?) And they need all the faith and confidence we can possibly give them as well as our utmost interest and encouragement "To be trusted to be saved," says Henry Drummond.

I have no idea that the Red Cross nurses on the European battlefields ever ask whether the sick and wounded soldiers they are caring for are "worthy" of their divine ministrations. And even if any objects of charity should be considered unworthy of our sympathy and consideration let every effort be put forth to make them worthy, that all righteousness may be fulfilled by us. In other words: a charity organization should be a moral and spiritual dynamo as well as a ministry to physical needs. It will not be possible in all cases to exert an effective moral influence on our beneficiaries, but it can be done in most cases. And we can save our own souls alive in all cases, if nothing more.

I would not refuse my sympathy and interest to any portion of the poor and needy, but I do confess to a special interest in the widowed and worse than widowed mothers who are struggling to maintain their children and keep them from being sent to the Children's Home. And I trust that the contemplated charity organization will see to it that no faithful mother is separated from the children she has borne and that no little children shall be deprived of such a mother. Rather should every such mother be cheerfully—I was about to say, passionately sustained, for her children's sake as well as her own. And I would offer the same plea for every widowed father who is truly devoted to his children.

"When the ear heard me then it blessed me," cried Job the prophet of old," and when the eye saw me it gave witness to me, because I delivered the poor that cried and the fatherless and him that had none to help him. The blessing of him that was ready to perish came upon me and I caused the widow's heart to sing for joy. I was eyes to the blind and feet was I to the lame. I was a father to the poor and the cause that I knew not I searched out."

"Charity suffereth long and is (always) KIND:" said St. Paul, AND THE SAME GREAT APOSTLE HAS REMINDED US THAT "WE ARE ALL MEMBERS ONE OF ANOTHER."

"Pure religion and undefiled before God the Father is to VISIT the widow and the fatherless in their affliction and to keep himself unspotted from the world," said St. James.

Inasmuch as ye did it unto one of the least of these, ye did unto me,' said Jesus the Christ. M. R. S.

ROLAND LODGE, K. OF P.

Two applications were received at the meeting this week of Roland Lodge, No. 305. One other was baloted upon and elected, and the page rank conferred upon two candidates. Esquire, or second rank, next Tuesday evening. December 29 it is expected that the knight rank will be conferred by a team made up exclusively of past chancellors. It will be well to bear this in mind and be on hand to see and hear the "hasbeens" exemplify the work. Suffice to say it will be worth your time. A good-sized class will be ready for the knight rank at that time as an effort will be made to have all eligible candidates on hand so as to start the new year with a clean slate. Candidates and also brothers of Roland Lodge who brought in applications are kindly asked to assist the officers in this matter.

DECISION

not believe, however, that it will give railroads any additional purchasing power.

President A. H. Smith of the New York Central lines, and Howard Elliott, president of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad, expressed the opinion that the commission in granting the rate increase had recognized the needs of the railroads and the necessity of increasing freight rates.

"In its broad scope the increase as granted shows, in my opinion," said George F. Brownell, vice president and general solicitor of the Erie railroad, "that the interstate commerce commission had realized that the relief which the commission previously had thought could be gained from other measures than increased freight traffic had been made impossible by the results of the war and existing conditions."

Several bankers, brokers and men whose interests are allied with the railroads also saw in the decision a sentimental benefit and a factor in maintaining the confidence of investors and business men. Among others who made statements was Alexander J. Hemphill, president of the Guaranty Trust company. He said:

"From my point of view the most favorable feature of the commission's decision is that the people at Washington are displaying a disposition to help the railroads. I don't believe, however, that the industrial companies will reap any great benefit from it."

W. C. Van Antwerp, a governor of the New York Stock Exchange said:

"The decision is highly encouraging and will no doubt be approved by the higher court of public opinion."

ALPINE SOLDIERS FIGHTING ON SKIS.

(Associated Press Correspondence)

Geneva, Nov. 30.—With the arrival of deep snow on the French-German frontier, especially in Alsace-Lorraine and the Vosges, the Alpine regiments on both sides are now fighting on skis. The Chasseurs Alpins, whose headquarters in peace time are at Champnix and Grenoble, are at home on skis and can travel long distances without fatigue. Last winter a whole regiment, fully equipped, climbed the Mont Blanc on skis, not a man falling out of the ranks.

Strangely enough, you can make some people hot by treating them coldly.
